

Ironhide Tonk of the Skarsind College of Warcasting,

Hail and greetings from Reki of Skjuhalm, son of Skao the Impaler.

I have heard of your warlock's school from some I have traded with in Miekarova and Skarsind. I would speak with you at Anvil.

My daughter and I will come armed, as is the custom. The fierceness of the Ironhide is surely to be respected, as is that respect for the rule of law which characterises the Imperial tribe.

I am sending this letter because my daughter Thaela and I are likely to be late to Anvil, arriving on the morning of the Sun's Day. We will aim for the tenth hour so that we can discuss the matter before the real business of the day begins. We will seek you out at the Imperial Orc encampment.
