

Laffiette De Maniesperte Morosini Von Temeschwar,

At the Equinox, you caught the attention of the Prince of the Argent Tontine.

You chose not to seek out his representatives at the Winter Solstice as was your choice. Now I offer you another opportunity.

Your debt from the game of risk will fall due at the Autumn Equinox. If you are struggling to amass the needed funds, you might be interested in a way to raise them that we can offer you.

You should turn to Oscuro di Kira de Tassato. He will meet our Heralds at 7 on the Friday evening and take them somewhere convivial, once their business is concluded at half past 7 I have told him to expect to make the Herald available to speak with you, and with 2 others who are invited if they wish it. You should find out where they expect to be.

Lanister, Secretary to the Sovereign Lord of the City of Chains
