

Mircea, Triska

I was sent your names by the Senator for Karov.

I am not good at asking for help. And I am not good at being the Boyar that cannot see how to honour the bargain their people made long ago with a Sovereign. If only my heart would do, but it will not.

I have to ask you to try and come to see us. I wish that our need might drive the Sentinel Gate to open and bring you straight to our camp, the Central Camp of the Lower Vale of Olvanshka here in Kamienzka in Karov. Husks have gathered around it but our wards hold, and during the Equinox we will strengthen them with magic. You will be safe if you can come to the camp – though if you can also bring Schlacta to fight the husks away outside it we will owe you even more.

I seek guidance on how we might try to negotiate with the Eater of Hearts, since we do not know how to reach it. Or, I suppose on how to find an unfaithful heart that I can part with.

Will you check the gate? Will you bring wise counsel and maybe more?

Claudia Tiron Boyar of the Vale of Olvanshka
