

Dear Ambassador,

Thank you for your kind invitation to Anvil on behalf of the former ambassador - unfortunately this message has come to me too late to attend this summit, but I will make every effort to attend in Autumn. I will send further correspondence prior to the next summit to go over the necessary details.

I imagine you are in dialogue with Erasmo due to your respective positions anyway, but recommend them as someone to keep close as someone who is trusted by the Liege of the Five Winds. In times like these discretion is always paramount, so one must always be careful of who to disclose to, and it is important to keep those you trust close.

Yours loyally,

Nyamzul Ganbatar

Dear Luke,

Your challenge is coming to a close, and it is time for you to receive your reward from the Lord of the Dragonforge.

Come to the Grove of the Thousand in Axmure, Semmerholm, at 12:55 pm on the Saturday of the upcoming summit. There you will receive your reward from myself in accordance with the terms of the challenge. You may bring up to 5 others with you to witness your triumph, if you wish.

Unfortunately it seems likely that my lord Barien will not be able to attend in person due to the...ongoing situation. You will still receive your reward as expected, and it is my hope that you will be invited in the future to meet with Barien another time.

Congratulations, questor.

Yours,

Dear Erasmo,

On behalf of my Liege I wish to convey my house's deepest thanks for the speedy delivery of the information. With the tip off of the location we have been able to uncover clandestine meetings between Altsanig agents and the Asaveans - while of course innocence was protested and you letter decried as a falsehood to frame innocent patriots, there was enough incriminating evidence to deliver the harshest possible justice to the Faraden that were involved, though as one would expect no paper trail leading above some minor Altsanig lackeys. The Asaveans involved for their part have been sent packing. While things are quieter now, I suspect this is not the last we have heard of this. High Lady Togene is having to be circumspect - of course she has made the expected claims that this is yet another overreach by the house of Ganbatar, lapdogs of the Empire that they are (or so she says), but doesn't want to protest too much given her goons were caught red-handed, so to speak. This is mostly a matter for behind closed doors between the lieges, you understand.

These are...tense times, in Caitun and Faraden in general. My Liege and the house of Ganbatar have genuine affection for the Empire and our relationship. Nevertheless, we are feeling like we are caught in an inexorably tightening vice between the Empire and Asavea. While this war continues between the two of you we can only assume that the Asaveans will continue to attempt, through whatever means they can find, to destabilise my nation and cause the Empire problems. It is a blow to me and my house's honour to think of ourselves as reduced to mere pawns in a great game played between two giants, but this is the situation we find ourselves in, and we thank the Empire for its help and loyalty. We only wish these things could be enjoyed in less trying times.

While we have broken the ring in Caitun for now we have no doubt that some attempt will be made in the future. We remain eternally vigilant to new threats. But we should have some peace for the moment.

Thank you for your invitation to Anvil - unfortunately this message has come to me too late to attend this summit, but I will make every effort to attend in Autumn. I will send a similar letter to the new ambassador since they made the request, but at this time am unsure whether the details of the situation were to be shared and did not want to reveal anything unnecessarily.

Yours loyally,

Nyamzul Ganbatar

Dear Andred,

Your challenge is coming to a close, and it is time for you to prove whether you are worthy of the Iron Duke's reward.

Come to the Grove of the Thousand in Axmure, Semmerholm, at 12:55 pm on the Saturday of the upcoming summit. There you will need to present your trophies of battle in accordance with the terms of your challenge. You may do this yourself or have a troubadour or announcer do it on your behalf, as you like. Please keep your presentation relatively brief - the chamber is fragile, and will only be open for a short while for the ceremony. You may bring up to 5 others with you to witness your triumph, if you wish.

Unfortunately it seems likely that my lord Barien will not be able to attend in person due to the...ongoing situation. You will still receive your reward as expected, and it is my hope that you will be invited in the future to meet with Barien another time.

Good luck, questor.

AUTUMN.

FIND ME.

Dear Aletheia,

Your challenge is coming to a close, and it is time for you to prove whether you are worthy of the Iron Duke's reward.

Come to the Grove of the Thousand in Axmure, Semmerholm, at 12:55 pm on the Saturday of the upcoming summit. There you will need to present tokens of those you have saved from death in accordance with the terms of your challenge. You may do this yourself or have a troubadour or announcer do it on your behalf, as you like. Please keep your presentation relatively brief - the chamber is fragile, and will only be open for a short while for the ceremony. You may bring up to 5 others with you to witness your triumph, if you so wish.

Unfortunately it seems likely that my lord Barien will not be able to attend in person due to the...ongoing situation. You will still receive your reward as expected, and it is my hope that you will be invited in the future to meet with Barien another time.

Good luck, questor.

Dear Areloe,

Apologies for the unfortunate delay in your challenge - it appears that some of the victuals provided to Vintner for the feast were considered “satisfactory only for Arden spider hogs” and the whole thing was postponed 3 months as a result.

You are once again invited to take on your challenge at 12:35pm on the Saturday of the upcoming summit. You should come via the Hall of Worlds, where Vintner will be to meet you and guide you to the chamber where the feast will be taking place. You will have 40 minutes to arrange the table in accordance with the challenge, but nothing has otherwise changed since my last letter.

Good luck, questor.

Yours,

Revel, Herald of Barien

Dear Blaidd,

It is my regret to inform you, after the events of the quests you have been provided, that my lord the Iron Duke has deemed that you are unsuccessful in your challenge.

My lords thanks you for your attempt, and wishes you well in future attempts to overcome the obstacles placed before you.
