

1988.1 Nicassia Avicia of Phoenix Reach

OOC:

Over the past few weeks your sleep has been disturbed by recurring dreams. The dreams all feature the same recurring themes, coldness, bright sunlight, the smell of the sea and being unable to draw a breath. These dreams are fleeting, it is hard to remember details once you wake. The one thing you do remember is your face staring up with dead eyes at you from beneath the waves in silent condemnation.

You begin the game suffering from the WEAKNESS condition. This may be cured as normal.

You may choose to roleplay being tired and may choose to have these dreams while sleeping at the event. Should you experience a Liao dream during the event these above elements will not be present.