

Karkinos, Admiral of Tempests Voice of Rhianos, Monarch of Tides requests your presence in the Hall of Worlds in Anvil to discuss matters varied and specific

At Seven Of The Clock on the Friday evening of this

Summer Solstice

This audience is not closed, and a number of Imperial mortals have been invited. You may bring fellows if you so wish, but a dim view will be taken were the audience to become a babbling cacophony.

For those invited who are not magicians, Karkinos holds no doubt that they will overcome the minor challenge of gaining entry to the Hall of Worlds.
