

To Ancel Steward of House Vexille

I understand that you are person who understands the ways work in the world, and the salvation of Drycastle is of much interest to you.

I have contacts outside the Empire who wish to aid our nation in the salvation of Drycastle for the Dawnish and I thought that I would make the offer to you.

I understand that there will be Conjunction on the Sunday at midnight for up to four people that will go to the Burnt Oak in Murderdale in the Barrens. I suggest that if you decide to go then only take people that you trust, and can keep a secret.

Whether you keep nobles out of this, or trust people from other houses I leave up to your discretion.

I remain

Sorena De Coin Knight of Drycastle
