

My dear Decimus,

I hope this letter finds you well. A certain power has recognised the Ambition and potential in both of us and I thought therefore you may be interested in a conversation about mutual interests.

As I'm sure you can appreciate, I must be careful in how I conduct myself considering recent events, and so there are certain conditions that must be met if we are to talk.

I suggest we meet in The Gecko's Nest, a small bar in the Jade Range of Kahraman. I have some specific terms:

- None of us may bring a weapon save for a knife (I understand the need for vigilance, despite this being a friendly introduction).
- Only the three of you who I have sent invitations may come. You may not send anyone else in your stead, and must not be accompanied by anyone else.

As I understand it, there will be a conjunction through your sentinel gate to reach this location at 13:30 on the Saturday of the autumn equinox. If you miss this opportunity, I can promise no more in future.

Yours in service,

Jodeya Watiker di Tassato Mestra

My dear Agnes,

I hope this letter finds you well. A certain power has recognised the Ambition and potential in both of us and I thought therefore you may be interested in a conversation about mutual interests.

As I'm sure you can appreciate, I must be careful in how I conduct myself considering recent events, and so there are certain conditions that must be met if we are to talk.

I suggest we meet in The Gecko's Nest, a small bar in the Jade Range of Kahraman. I have some specific terms:

- None of us may bring a weapon save for a knife (I understand the need for vigilance, despite this being a friendly introduction).
- Only the three of you who I have sent invitations may come. You may not send anyone else in your stead, and must not be accompanied by anyone else.

As I understand it, there will be a conjunction through your sentinel gate to reach this location at 13:30 on the Saturday of the autumn equinox. If you miss this opportunity, I can promise no more in future.

Yours in service,

Jodeya Watiker di Tassato Mestra

My dear Brother Geoffrey,

I hope this letter finds you well. A certain power has recognised the Ambition and potential in both of us and I thought therefore you may be interested in a conversation about mutual interests.

As I'm sure you can appreciate, I must be careful in how I conduct myself considering recent events, and so there are certain conditions that must be met if we are to talk.

I suggest we meet in The Gecko's Nest, a small bar in the Jade Range of Kahraman. I have some specific terms:

- None of us may bring a weapon save for a knife (I understand the need for vigilance, despite this being a friendly introduction).
- Only the three of you who I have sent invitations may come. You may not send anyone else in your stead, and must not be accompanied by anyone else.

As I understand it, there will be a conjunction through your sentinel gate to reach this location at 13:30 on the Saturday of the autumn equinox. If you miss this opportunity, I can promise no more in future.

Yours in service,

Jodeya Watiker di Tassato Mestra