

Dearest Lukash Biessek von Temeshbar,

We have read and carefully considered your letter. Further to this, we wish to meet with you and your circle on the Friday of the Autumn summit to talk on both the matters you raised, and certain opportunities that have arisen as a result of your achievements three months ago. Clear your schedule from the eleventh hour onwards into the night, as there is much to discuss.

The location you choose should be both free of potential eavesdroppers and only revealed to the majority of participants once the meeting begins, as before. We leave the matter of securing such in your capable hands. I will be in attendance at the Temeshbar from half-ten to confirm that all is well with planning, though my good aunt will only present herself at the meeting's inception.

Given the content of your message, we remind you to take great care when selecting participants for this talk, and to bring only those whose loyalties to you are certain.

Kindest regards,
Cousin Sabien