

Ambassadors

I contact you and congratulate you on holding such positions of influence and power in the relationship between the Empire and the Wider World.

The Golden Spider is inclined to be impressed by those with the ambition to seek out, hold and wield power. I commend to you the City of Bridges, and suggest that you familiarise yourselves with our honesty in the trading of favours and with my Sovereign Lord's genuine interest in supporting those with Ambition to rise and rise.

I have this season a friend visiting Anvil representing the interests of The Golden Spider and I contact you as we predict our needs may align with yours in maintaining maximum opportunities for Trade.

Her name is Raphaela von Holberg. She expects to attend on the first evening of the Solstice, and find a Guild to host her in the League camp, whilst she seeks meetings with numerous people, especially those who hold fast to goals which might reflect the preferences of the City of Bridges, where movement, growth and ambition are valued above all.

Perhaps you will look for her, and discuss whether shared favours, some of which are owed to the Lord of the Loom and some of which he owes, might lead to new sharing amongst us.

May you be rich in favours and friends

Zola

Herald of the City of Bridges