

This is an OOC note and is not for IC reference.

For OOC mechanical reasons, ribbon 42123, Jar of Honey, has been changed. Now it acts as a unique ritual focus that grants you +1 Spring Lore once per day. It acts as a normal magic item and can be bonded and transferred between people as usual.

On an IC level the jar still produces Vital Honey, but it produces it in downtime rather than on the field. You should receive three measures of Vital Honey in your pack every event, including this one. If you did not receive three measures of Vital Honey in your pack, show this note to the GOD desk and they'll sort you out.

This is not an IC change. From an IC perspective it always worked like this. Don't worry about it.
