

OOC: This note arrives my Winged Messenger a week before the summit.

General

I was unconvinced that writing you this letter would be of any use in helping us but the rest of my coven convinced me that it costs little to try but the benefit to us may be great. That is if you see to making sure the Senate wakes up and sees the danger right in front of its eyes. The Hierro clan are a danger that we cannot ignore or downplay. They boast to all that will listen that they intend to conquer Feroz because they think there is nothing we can do about it. At the moment they might be right.

Let's take this opportunity to secure our land with fortifications and castles that we can stand on the ramparts of and rain death down upon them if their words prove more than empty threats. Please pass these words along to whomever is chosen to be the next Senator for Feroz so that they may also work towards this goal.

Antonio i Guerra, Flamebearer of the Afar's Inferno Hakima
