

My friend Tacred,

I hope that you have enjoyed the delights of my Golden Apples, your appetite for them for them has not escaped my notice. My personal recommendation is to bake them with honey and brown sugar with a pinch of cinnamon and then add a crumble topping of flour, sugar and butter, cooking them for a further thirty minutes. I am sure, however, that you do not need such tips from me, and there are better things to talk about.

I have taken a keen interest in your affairs, and I see the potential for great things in your future. Included with this letter is a topic that will aid you in your transformation.

I am looking forward to speaking to the Eucharist Tacred de Launce, Grandmaster of the Celestial Arch, and I hope to reward that person accordingly.

Your Friend

Meraud