

To Gralka Skywise, Archmage of Day.

Firstly greetings to you.

At this Summit I shall be sending a delegation of my Heralds to speak with certain invited parties. While this meeting shall not be committed under any aspect of Plenipotentiary, though I expect that my Heralds to be treated as friends of the Empire. My delegation shall arrive at 2pm of the Saturday of the Winter Summit.

I require of you to arrange a suitable meeting place for my delegation to meet, an area large enough for comfortable seating and tables for the playing of games. While your presence is of course welcome, please do not feel your own attendance is required throughout. Once business has been concluded with the invited parties the delegation will be more than welcome to speak to any other interested citizens.

Yours,

Zakalwe.
