

Caius Aurelius

My people were grateful for the herbs. With the fog that is swirling around, I thought I would write to remind you of the place you seek. The Grey Wanderer most often walks at the very edge of the Forest of Peytaht near The Grey Path Gate, just across the border in Broken Ride, Reikos, Highguard.

It is a strange place, with sound and light seemingly connected to the Wanderer himself. I hope you find the banner there.

May the forest treat you well

OOO information

We thought it would be helpful for us to confirm that we have remembered your CtID across the long break. You'll need to do a new conjunction check IC for the time and how many people you can take with you – as its been rescheduled from the listing that was visible at E4 2019!

Accessibility notes include: Quest is planned so that it may involve moving slowly in darkness as part of the fun, if that isn't likely to be fun for any of your party please bring small personal light sources for those individuals and let your ref know. Other accessibility notes can be looked up by a Ref or Egrore from your conjunction information.
