Over the past three months, a Thule war band - known as The Black Heart of Karsk – has travelled to Oloy, in Karsk, within the last few weeks; and has been raiding the shipments of Ambergelt from the Krevasty Yelta - though these raids seem opportunistic - if anything, incidental to the war band's movements. Currently, we estimate that the damage to the total output is negligible, but if left for another season, the warband is likely that they will cause significant harm to the Krevasty Yelta's production.
