

Imperial Seer,
Solsetan Fjellbreving

I speak to you as one master of the unseen eye to another.

I would meet with you. With you and with that one who holds the seat of Sage of the Vallorn.

I have asked Guha, who is the Spider, who speaks for Volodmartz, to help to arrange such a meeting.

The city of Emrys lies under the dominion of the Thule, yet its wealth is denied us by that which you call the Vallorn.

I contain knowledge of the Winter wards that keep that honor contained in the heart of the forest, and keep it quiescent. I do not contain the knowledge of how the indestructible might be destroyed, nay, despite all the years of study.

I know that the Sage of the Vallorn has the knowledge of a rite that allows the indestructible taint to be unwoven.

An exchange of this knowledge would be a beginning. It could lead to an exchange of the rituals themselves.

I would meet with you, and with the one who holds the seat of Advisor, in the presence of Guha, or those that Guha appoints to the task.

This meeting should be held in the audience chamber of an Eternal.

The eternal Lashonan would host this meeting in his shadowed forum, but reticence of the Empire to deal with Lashonan for access to the forum makes the eternal disinclined to arrange the meeting, and without its agreement the forum door remains closed to the Empire.

Maybe the Empire could secure the support of a different Eternal to host this meeting.

I await a reply, once the aid of a willing Eternal and the Sage have been secured.

Hinodin,

Who Gazes Upon the Bright Orb,

The Throne of Hinodin,

Nithoggin
