

My dear sibling in the Way of Prosperity,

I write expeditiously to ask a favour. Here in Trivento many ships and the whole docks are taken up with the effort of housing so many refugees from Ferox, and I am needed to feed and house many of them, or I would come to anvil myself.

One of my ships has come back without my youngest bravo. I wonder if you might keep an ear out among the Freeborn attendees for Dafne of the Five Great Fish Carta of Trivento. It's a favour I'll repay the next time one of yours gets in trouble around these ends. Let it be so Reckoned.

I know they were headed as far as a Paradox in Fontargenta called "The Waters of Life" or somesuch. I hope she's not still there or the Grendel will have her!

In thanks,

Debora di Trivento
