

To the esteemed Nicassia Avicia of Phoenix Reach, General of the Citadel Guard,

Since our meeting at the Solstice, I have been collating information on the movements of Phelan Morganach, the monster who ran off with your nation's children five years ago. I have determined that he will be passing through Apstrus during the Equinox, on his way to meet with a potential investor.

I will be arriving in Anvil as early as I can on Friday, and hope to meet with you then. I will make my way to the Urizen encampment once I arrive. In case we miss one another, however, I wanted to give you the basic details here.

I believe he will be making camp at a reasonably exposed location on The Via Apulus at quarter past five on Saturday. Hopefully you will be able to dispatch a stout force to deal with the situation. I do not believe you will need more than thirty-five warriors to handle this.

*Remember, if Our Friend is to be able to assist you after the fact, then it is important that as few witnesses as possible remain, and that Morganach himself is executed.*

Hopefully I will see you soon,

Maistir Odhrán
