

Prince Jonah

The Plenum of Nemoria has yoke our people for centuries. They have told us we are part of this great republic but we are little better than slaves. Our leaders have sold us to the heirs of Asav for hundreds of years. Enough is enough. We will not bow to the yoke of the Plenum again.

Our allies from the south have shared with us the virtues of Pride and Ambition. They have helped us to arm and armour ourselves. They have also warned us that your people are the allies of the tyrants who would make us their subjects again.

We value only deeds, not words.

If your Empire has any interest in aiding us, let them show it with deeds. Our Sumaah allies tell us that the Wisdom of Timoj is one of their trading vessels that docks in your Empire at a place called Sarvos. If you can sway those of influence to help us, then send us the things we need. Mithril, weirwood, white granite. Healing Herbs. Crystal Mana. Show us your sincere support and we will talk further.
