

Alderei the Rapacious,

Tyrant-boyar of Varushka I present to you an opportunity.

The followers who came into our lord's realm, who supped and dined with him, have been unleashed on those they hate.

They were let loose in a northern region of the Mourn, and have split their force in two. Half go towards the Singing Caves, half towards the monastery of Oakwood.

If the attack on the singing caves goes ahead they will acquire mithril. Some of which you will receive at the next summit.

If the attack on the monastery goes ahead they will deliver slaughter to the monks there, and will acquire some herbs. You will receive some of these at the next summit.

In servitude,

Daniella
