

Greetings to you, former visitor to my vale. I trust this letter finds you alive. And well. It seems to me that you are none to keen to return to treat with me in person. That is such a shame. The new usurper who takes the name Boyar ignores me mostly and I am sure schemes against me. I trust you though. Illium has been found once again in the mine. I expect he hasn't told you about that. But good news comes to my ears of course. Those powerful barbarians from the bitter north have been pacified. It would have been easier if you listened to me. I could have helped resolve things much faster. Anyway, I can still offer my assistance. Karsk is still plagued by the Charnal Lord. If you bring an army to my vale that you have bound by the ritual Quickening Cold Meat then I can help you. I will help you, I will help Karsk. I will help Varushka. I will help the Empire. If you don't, I am sure the Thale will gladly help me. To show my sincere nature I have sent my obedient rezic Ivan Volk to Anvil. Find him after dark in the Shadow Market. Bring your rings. And make sure to make a wish!
