

Sagua i'Ezmarara the Master of the Koboldi,

His magnificence King Adamant, he who is the unbroken mountain, who basks in the glow of a thousand gems, asks that you let the enchanterers of Dawn know that there is another way of acquiring his favour so that the army of the Eastern Sky can properly defend the fortifications of the Empire.

The great and powerful Adamant wishes for the Imperial Master of Works powers to be restored, so that they can commission a single new fortification each season. The majestic King Adamant does not care if the stipend is restored, nor is there any need for the title to become Dawnish, simply that the enchanterers of Dawn understand the need for fortifications if the Eastern Sky are going to be defending them.

Hope you have been having a lovely winter, it has gotten a bit chilly,
