

Enchanter Aurelius,

a knight-errant has come to Drycastle with grave news, their band has been ambushed and all slain, bar one who has been taken by the vile Orcs that infest this land. From speaking with the boy it seems that they were travelling in the outer reaches of the Forest of Peytaht.

I leave it in your hands to decide what to do about this, doubtless Lady Gryphonsbane will be able to tell you if the poor soul, Elaine of house du Rengot, still lives.

There may still be a chance to save her, or at least put her out of her misery, if the boy is correct.

Yours in service,

Kay of house Aurelius

Weaver of the Autumn Realm