

Gemma Brightsmith

I am writing in my current role assisting the Master of Challenges and Castellan with administrative tasks.

Castellan will be attending the Summer Solstice and intends to hold a number of meetings from a base with Highborn Chapter, The Shattered Tower, home to the Archmage of Summer, Solomon, on the Friday evening of the Solstice between seven and nine.

You are invited to attend at ten past eight in the evening.

Castellan wishes to speak with you about to discuss your recent success.

If you are not easily available at that time, you should seek out other invited guests and see if you can arrange to swap times. If this is not possible, you may send a representative who knows your schedule for the Solstice to discuss with Castellan whether there are any other opportunities for you to meet.

I wish you all success
