

Dear Magnus Prochnost, Boyar of Ivarsgard

I write to you once again on behalf of the beggar king Roberto van Eck of the Van Eck family in the Sarcophan Delves.

Thank you for taking the time to meet with us at your docks last season. It was most fortuitous you were able to make it back from Anvil on such short notice. Truly this relationship is meant to be!

We are securing supplies of Cerulean Mazzarine such that we can give preferential rates to the traders representing Ivarsgard itself, and look forward to setting our enterprise up in your prosperous town, to extend our reach further into the North.

We shall visit you in Anvil to talk further, probably at the Autumn equinox once you have appointed the custodian through your senate.

Mario of the Van Eck family of the Bedelaar Huisbaas