

The following letter was awaiting you upon your arrival at Anvil.

Consul,

Your efforts are appreciated and progress at a pace far in excess of those of the Asavean Ambassador to whom we had previously entrusted our good will. The servitors of state sent to finalise the arrangements underpinning the establishment of trade and residency have, to my understanding, been satisfied by our efforts - likely as we had prepared them a year ago.

*As negotiated, we are to make particular elements of Marracossa's legacy available exclusively to the Sendito assigned by the Empire. The particulars were arranged during a previous journey to the capital - the Raptis Hook, Fork of Ichos and Night Mirror of Pavlus shall henceforth be reserved for sale to the Catazarri - at least those examples produced in Trajadoz.*

Let this be a new beginning, albeit a delayed one, to our shared 'Prosperity' - it is the hope of the people I represent that this is a first step towards a brighter future.

- Glaucia Herminia, Legate of Marracossa Trajadoz, Madrugã.