

Strength of Tradition

Magnitude 16

You feel confident when you are people of your own tradition, something about being with others with the same heritage gives you an inner strength. When you are performing an action only with people only of your tradition you feel stronger, more willing to take risks, and safer.

In addition, if you perform a ritual with only people from your tradition (not on your own) the coven gains +1 in the appropriate lore for that ritual. This does not stack if another member of your ritual team also has this bonus from "Strength of Tradition"

If you perform a ceremony with only people from your tradition (not on your own) the magnitude of that ceremony is increased by 1. This does not stack if another member of your ritual team also has this bonus from "Strength of Tradition"

Although you feel more confident with people of your own Tradition and feel more secure in their company, this does not mean that you have to avoid or cause conflict with people of the other Traditions.

Note: Tradition means Suaq, Kallevisi or Steirn
