

I, Exquy, on behalf of the Tomb King recognise Gunda the Unshattered as the winner of our latest Trial of the Pallid Charm.

In Axos, Gunda has shown what it is to be Unshattered and won a boon for their homeland of Hahnmark.

For one season, provided that The Hungry Wolf has the Amity of the Imperial Conclave, and when called by the Arcane Projection provided for the purpose, Sorin will send his Heralds to Hahnmark.

The effect of their visit will be to cut back the weak and twisted weeds and allow through the strong growth of the best crops, the result, a boost to herb production throughout the territory that coming season.

Do not forget that though won, this boon comes with a price, those who cast the Arcane Projection will be put under the Curse of a Bleak Tower.

This curse is known in many places, you should ask what it does, so that none take part without understanding the suffering that will ensue.
