

Cesare

Last gathering in Anvil you spoke to one of my loyal soldiers in the fight for Freedom. She came back to me, told me how there is hope within the heroes of Anvil. You are one of these heroes. You show potential. You should show true heroism in the fight against slavery.

I have personally sent a warrior from my home in Nestor's Bounty to meet you. Find them outside the Forge at the 8th hour past midday on Friday of the gathering. I call them warriors but they only fight the enemies of Freedom, those who keep souls in bondage and force them to toil, to never be prosperous. So you have no reason to fear them, they come to Anvil to speak, nothing more. Perhaps you shall become a true hero.
