

To the Wolves of the Pale Raven,

Thank you for your correspondence last season. Unfortunately, we have recently found our business suffering from the hauntings of vengeful spirits. I am sorry that this - shall we say inconvenience? - has passed to you through my payment for your aid in the duel last year.

It is some relief to hear that you were in a position to exorcise the spirit. I am also intrigued by your offer of help. I can spare the time to visit you at Anvil for the summer solstice summit. I would be most happy to provide you with appropriate payment if you could rid me of these irritating spirits. Smells like a business deal!

May the winds blow behind your back,

Geachte Jolly Jackdaws,

Thank you for your hospitality last summit. We hope you enjoy your samples of paarse azijn!

Here is a reminder of our trade terms, should you wish to accept:

We are able to brew up to 20 doses of paarse azijn per season, at a cost of 2 liao per dose of paarse azijn.

This trade must be done in multiples of 10 liao. eg:

- 10 liao for 5 paarse azijn
- 40 liao for 20 paarse azijn

We ask you to nominate a contact among your number for our trade. We will take payment from this contact, and they will be the individual who receives the paarse azijn.

If you are satisfied with these terms, please let us know who you wish to be the contact for our trade, and we will set things up over the coming season.

The terms are non-negotiable. We believe they are very favourable, but will not be offended if you reject our offer.

Met hartelijke groeten,

Gelder Kraft

Geachte Hugo,

Myself and my brother are most excited by your offer to write a play about us, our nation and our unparalleled penchant for narcotics!

Please find attached something of a tasting menu of Sarcophan substances. Enjoy your research!

Please do let us know when you are planning a performance of the play - we would love to come along, and perhaps set up some trade after the show if there would be appetite.
